DETAILED ACTION

1. This Office action is responsive to amendment filed on 06/27/07.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.
- 3. Claims 1, 2, 4-6, 9-13, 16, 20-22, and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by anticipated by Igarashi et al. (Patent No.: US 6,747,680).

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Regarding claims 1, 11, and 20, Igarashi teaches an advanced navigation system for portable device comprising:

an input component (802, fig. 8) that receives user input, the input component comprising a pointing device;

Art Unit: 2629

a navigation component that facilitates navigating through content displayed on a portable device screen (804) based in part on location of the input component with respect to the content; and a mapping component that smoothly transitions a current view to a new or previous view and orients the content and/or the view thereof within the portable device screen based in part on data received from the navigation component, the mapping component continuously adjusts magnification of the content based at least in part on the speed of the input component with respect to the content (col. 8, line 56 to col. 9, line 5, col. 10, line 40 to col. 11, line 7).

Regarding claim 2, Igarashi teaches the current view comprising an overview of the content (col. 5, line 60 to col. 6, line 30).

Regarding claim 4, Igarashi teaches the pointing device comprises a stylus (col. 10, lines 40-48).

Regarding claims 5, 6, 12, 13, 16, and 21-22, Igarashi teaches the mapping component displays a less detailed/a more detailed view of the content underlying a faster/ slower moving pointing device (col. 7, lines 20-40).

Regarding claim 9, Igarashi teaches the portable device comprising a PDA (col. 11, lines 29-36).

Regarding claim 10, Igarashi teaches comprising document-based content, image-based content, map-based content, and calendars (col. 12, lines 20-28).

Regarding claim 26, Igarashi teaches a computer-readable medium having stored thereon the components of claim 1, wherein the components are computer executable (col. 12, lines21-28).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

- (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 5. Claims 3, 7, 14, 15, 18, 23, and 24-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Claims rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over Igarashi et al. (Patent No.: US 6,747,680) in view of Baar et al. (Patent No.: US 6,768,497).

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art only under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) might be overcome by: (1) a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not an invention "by another"; (2) a showing of a date of invention for the claimed subject matter of the application which corresponds to subject matter disclosed but not claimed in the reference, prior to the effective U.S. filing date of the reference under 37 CFR 1.131; or (3) an oath or declaration under 37 CFR 1.130 stating that the application and reference are currently owned by the same party and that the inventor named in the application is the prior inventor under 35 U.S.C. 104, together with a terminal disclaimer in accordance with 37 CFR 1.321(c). This rejection might also be overcome by showing that the reference is disqualified under 35 U.S.C. 103(c) as prior art in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a). See MPEP § 706.02(1)(1) and § 706.02(1)(2).

Art Unit: 2629

Regarding claims 3, 14-15, 23 and 24-25, Igarashi does not specifically teach a semi-transparent overview of the content over at least a partially zoomed in view of the content to maintain or provide context.

Baar teaches a semi-transparent overview of the content over at least a partially zoomed in view of the content to maintain or provide context (col. 6, lines 1-19). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the partially zoomed in view of the content as taught by Baar in the system of Igarashi in order to display region of interest clearly to the user.

Regarding claims 7 and 18, the combination of Igarashi and Baar teaches a lens component integrated into the device screen that is maneuvered over the content in part by the input component (col. 6, lines 1-10 of Baar).

6. Claim 19 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Igarashi et al. (Patent No.: US 6,747,680) in view of Davies (Patent No.: US 6,262,741).

Regarding claim 19, Igarashi does not specifically segmenting the content displayed on the portable device screen into at least two sub-segments.

Davies teaches segmenting the content displayed on the portable device screen into at least two sub-segments (col. 8, line 62 to col. 9, line 4). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the sub-segments as taught by Davies in the system of Igarashi in order to view easily.

7. Claims 8 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable Igarashi et al. (Patent No.: US 6,747,680) in view of Baar et al. (Patent No.: US 6,768,497) and further in view of Rodriguez et al. (Patent No.: US 6,704,034).

Regarding claims 8 and 17, the combination of Igarashi and Baar does not specifically teach the view of other surrounding content displayed on the device screen does not change.

Rodriguez teaches the view of other surrounding content displayed on the device screen does not change (col. 5, lines 16-32). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the view of other surrounding content displayed on the device screen does not change as taught by Rodriguez in the system of the combination of Igarashi and Baar in order to allow the user view the other area efficiently.

- 8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-26 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
- 9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
